Presenter Bio:

Jennifer is the Clinical Services Manager for the Women's and Children's Alliance. She received her Master's in Counseling degree from Idaho State University in 1999 and immediately began working for the Women's & Children's Alliance. Jennifer has worked individually and in groups with adults and adolescents healing from domestic and sexual abuse, as well as managing co-occurring disorders. She is a state approved clinical supervisor for the counseling profession. With an earlier background in education and human development, Jennifer has presented workshops about the dynamics of abuse to many community groups.
